Increasing numbers of us are embracing the good life and trying our hand at keeping farmyard animals. Whilst striving to do the best for the health of their animals many people are unsure of where to turn for advice, support and practical help. Questions like 'When do my lambs need worming?' 'Who will vaccinate my alpacas?' 'Where do I find a sheep shearer?' Can leave you feeling overwhelmed.

In response to these questions and the growing need for practical help and veterinary care Synergy Farm Health have created Synergy Smallholder
